

MyIndyCondo.com

MyIndyCondo.com is the website for The Private Reserve Luxury Town homes. A quick Flash animation on the front page grabs the attention of possible buyers. The Private Reserve's logo was integrated into the design of the website, which improves recognition. All of the available units, with their pricing, can be easily accessed along with the floor plans. There is also an overhead map of the community in which customers can hover their mouse over to get information about a location.

Features:

- Flash Animation
- Graphic rich design
- Amenities page
- Available Units with viewable floor plans
- Site Map with mouse roll over
- Interactive photo layout

500broadway.com

The Website for 500 North Broadway high-rise office building is as modern and streamlined as the building itself. The front page showcases the building's newly renovated lobby and utilizes Flash animation. Amenities and photos are just a click away. Possible renters can quickly view the buildings location within the central business district of St. Louis. And there is a spreadsheet listing all available spaces with a link to their floor plans.

Features:

- Flash animation
- Overview
- Amenities page
- Available space database with viewable floor plans
- Interactive photo layout
- Location with aerial view
- Leasing information

BlackburnConsulting.biz

Blackburn Consulting International's website is vibrant and to the point and was custom made to meet their specifications. The navigation is simple and the information is accessible to clients. The company can post its latest updates, keeping the site current. Clients can easily access email and up to date contact information. A website like this makes it easy for potential customers to get to know more about what you do.

- Introduction
- Personal Bio
- About Us page
- Our Updates with viewable PDFs
- Up to date contact information

mastassociates.com

Mast & Associates is a Chicago-based sales and marketing organization and a manufacturers' representative. Their website is clean and pleasing to the eye. Their website needed to reflect strength and stability, so we used bold strong graphics and a simple design. It contains their contact information and all of the manufacturers that they represent with direct links.

Features:

- About Us page
- Retail page with links to manufacturers
- Industrial page with links to suppliers

426belmont.com

426 Belmont, The Belmont Harbor, is a luxurious residential apartment building in the midst of one of the most sought after neighborhoods in Chicago. We wanted to communicate the deep tones and texture of the vintage mid-rise, yet portray its contemporary charm in the website. All of the crucial information is immediate and up front for prospective residents. And photos, floor plans, selling points, and contact information are just a click away.

Features:

- Overview
- Stylish design
- Amenities page
- Floor plans
- Interactive photo layout
- Up to date contact information

slschicago.com

SLS Management is a growing real estate investment firm and progressive property management team. They have over $100 Million dollars in commercial and residential real estate across the Midwest. Their website needed to look modern and professional. Information accessibility is the key. Potential clients can look at an available property; it's crucial information, and find who they need to contact for that specific property quickly and easily. There are also links to each property's individual website and email links to each realtor.

Features:

- Company Overview
- Employment
- Up to date contact information
- Commercial page with photos, links and info on each property
- Residential page with photos, links and info on each property
- Investments